THE INAUGURAL ISSUE

GOING ^{THE} DISTANCE

{LEADING OFF}

On behalf of the Royals family welcome to the inaugural issue of Going the Distance, the official community outreach publication of the Kansas City Royals. Our goal is simple, to make a difference in the lives of those in need throughout the Royals region.

We hope this publication results in further collaboration with our community partners to positively impact our community's youth, education and neighborhoods.

Please join us in looking back at the off-season community activities and a look at what is ahead. We look forward to working together!

Thanks for your support.

Sincerely,

Dan Glass
President, Kansas City Royals

ROYALS CHARITIES GRANTS

2005 brought a significant milestone for Royals Charities! The charitable arm of the Kansas City Royals surpassed the $2 million mark in grants distributed! Since 2001, Royals Charities has donated over $2.2 million to impactful programs that invest in children, education and neighborhoods.

"Surpassing the $2 million mark in contributions is made possible only through the continued commitment and contributions of our players and their wives, our associates, our family, and our fans," said Royals President Dan Glass. Mike Sweeney welcomes RBI players and director Anthony Dickson prior to a Royals game. Below, Mike smiles with his son Michael and cancer survivor and friend Daulton.

MIKE SWEENEY

SLUGGER NAMED 2005 MAN OF THE YEAR

“...and the 2005 Man of the Year is...”
 Yep, that’s our Mike! Mike Sweeney was recognized as the 2005 Players’ Choice Marvin Miller Man of the Year Award recipient as voted on by fellow Major League players. The award is given annually to the player in either league whose on-field performance and contribution to his community inspire others to higher levels of achievement.

That’s a big honor, but Mike’s work in the community certainly earned him the distinction.

Mike and his wife, Shara, are extremely active in the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Kansas City’s Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI) program. Mike serves as spokesperson for RBI and established the “Swing with Sweeney” program to challenge others to join him to pledge a donation for each RBI he collects. Additionally, the Sweeneys committed $100,000 to build the “Sweeney Family Field” in Kansas City. Mike also appears in public service announcements and established an annual outstanding character award in his name for an RBI participant.

To allow others to experience Major League Baseball, Mike regularly invites area charity and non-profit groups to attend Royals games as his guests and become members of the “Sween Team.” Since 2003, the five-time All-Star has purchased tickets and souvenirs for nearly 2,200 kids.

In addition, Mike passionately supports a number of faith-based outreach programs in the Kansas City area and across the country. Since 2001, he has teamed up with former Kansas City Chiefs running back Tony Richardson to host the Sweeney-Richardson Golf Classic, raising more than $140,000 for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Athletes in Action.

Mike serves as the National Spokesman for LIFE TEEN, an international Catholic ministry dedicated to helping teens grow in their faith and strongly supports Character that Counts, an organization committed to building Christian character and leadership.

Nationally, Mike actively supports the Garth Brooks Teammates for Kids Foundation and the Prostate Cancer Foundation.

It is easy to see why Mike Sweeney was named the “Man of the Year.” We are lucky to have Mike as our Man of Kansas City!

It will appear that the Kansas City Monarchs are taking on the Milwaukee Bears as the Royals and Brewers wear replica jerseys in the annual Salute to the Negro Leagues. The first 20,000 fans in attendance will receive a 1949 style Monarchs hat!

BALLPARK BUILDING THROUGH BASEBALL 'N BLUES

Royals Charities will be supporting physically challenged youth through its largest fundraiser, the Baseball 'N Blues party. The event is set for Monday, June 19 in the Midwest Airlines Crown Club at Kauffman Stadium, with proceeds benefiting the Kansas City YMCA Challenger Division Baseball Park.

The park will feature a custom-designed baseball field with synthetic turf used to accommodate wheelchairs and other assistive devices. It removes the barriers that normally keep children with mental and physical disabilities off of the diamond. It will be the first field of its kind in the Kansas City area.

Challenger Division Baseball was created in 1989 to provide opportunities for children with disabilities to play baseball, regardless of their abilities. But it is more than playing a game. The Challenger Division is about making new friends, building self-esteem and being treated just like any other kid. To help athletes, the Challenger Division uses a "buddy" system in which each player is paired with an able-bodied peer.

Royals Charities is supporting this initiative in partnership with the YMCA of Greater Kansas City and William Jewell College. The project was started by students from William Jewell's prestigious Pryor Leadership Studies Program, while YMCA of Greater Kansas City donated the land and will supervise the program. The field will be located near the intersection of Highway 152 and Interstate 169, across from Metro North Mall and just off North Platte Purchase Road.

The Baseball 'N Blues party will bring together fans and the entire 2006 team. Patrons will enjoy a signature dinner and participate in live and silent auctions featuring unique memorabilia, sporting event tickets, and entertainment and luxury items. Companies or individuals interested in donating items or services for this fun-filled philanthropic event may contact Royals Charities.

ROYALTY FIELDS

Area fields are eligible for make-overs, courtesy, in part, to Royals Charities. The "Royalty Fields" grant distribution program was recently announced to provide new life to area baseball fields. Midwest non-profit and government units who run baseball and/or softball programs may apply for project-specific matching grants up to $5,000.

The grants will be awarded to organizations to improve game-essential areas including new sod, infield, fencing and dugouts. Non-essential items including lights, bleachers/grandstands, restrooms and scoreboards will not be considered.

TRAVELING ROYALS

Royals current and former players, including several of the club's young stars and members of the Royals Hall of Fame, spent part of the winter meeting fans and visiting schools, military bases and shopping malls across the Midwest. The annual Royals Caravan participated in 50 events in 35 communities during the 17-day tour.

Participants in this year's caravan included Manager Buddy Bell, pitchers Jeremy Affeldt and Andrew Sisco, catcher John Buck, first baseman Mike Sweeney, third baseman Mark Teahen, outfielders Emil Brown and Reggie Sanders, and Royals 2005

first-round draft pick Alex Gordon. They were joined by Sluggerrr, Royals Alumni members, club broadcasters and front office staff as part of this Royal tradition.

HOLIDAY VISITS IN K.C.

Several members of the Kansas City Royals participated in various community activities during the Holiday season. Pitcher Jeremy Affeldt, catcher John Buck, Royals Hall of Famer Frank White, former Royals players Al Fitzmorris and Greg Pryor, broadcaster Ryan Lefebvre and mascot Sluggerrr visited several areas in Kansas City. The Royals distributed baseball gloves that were collected through the Gloves for Kids event hosted by Lefebvre's Footprints Foundation at Dick's Sporting Goods in 2005.

Young ballplayers from the Guadalupe Center and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Kansas City received the gloves.

In addition, the group supported the Salvation Army Red Kettle Campaign by ringing bells and collecting donations. Finally, the group visited Blue River Elementary in Overland Park, Kan., to read books with select primary classrooms.

GIVING GIFTS IN TOPEKA

Law enforcement officers became personal shoppers for kids from Big Brothers/Big Sisters in a Topeka Wal-Mart last December. The Royals partnered with the Topeka/Shawnee County Fraternal Order of Police and Wal-Mart for the 13th annual Christmas with a Cop event.

Royals mascot Sluggerrr Claus made a special holiday visit to the shoppers before departing to share the holiday fun with children undergoing treatment at Stormont Vail hospital in Topeka.

The Royals provided financial support and gifts to the event, helping the Fraternal Order of Police and Wal-Mart to continue the tradition of holiday shopping with under-privileged kids in Topeka.
